TENTH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

BROOKLYN SOCIETY

For the Relief of Respectable, Aged, Indigent Females.

The sands of time have again marked a New Year, and demand from the Managers of the "Old Ladies Home," another statement of its affairs, both sanitary and financial.

The tenth anniversary of its foundation is to-day celebrated in conformity with its incorporate laws, it being also the request of its noble founder that "The Annual Meeting of the Society should be held in the Chapel of the Institution."

The Managers in asking your presence here to-day, feel that they obey a command voiceless to the ear, 'though binding to their hearts.

It would doubtless be better, on many accounts, that the meetings of this Society were held in a more central location, as the rapid growth of Brooklyn in other directions, makes it an inconvenient distance for many to attend, but the grateful memory of every request made by Mr. Graham, together with the opportunity it offers for visitors to inspect the building, and learn for themselves its true character and condition, would seem to counterbalance any advantage that might arise from a larger audience.

From necessity there must occur a great sameness in each yearly report given to the public, as the same rules and regulations for its management that were at first thought sufficient for its prosperity, are strictly adhered to the result of each year's experience being nearly the same. Too much honor cannot be given to those who first aided its organization, for its Constitution, Rules, Regulations and

By-laws, have stood the test of ten years experience, and with but slight amendments, have proved to be the best that could have been formed for the interest and government of the Institution. Plain and simple in their construction, amply comprehensive to meet all emergencies, definite, and binding alike upon both Manager and Inmate as to their several duties to each other, they appeal at once to the higher impulses of our nature to be just, and deal justly in all things. This, the Managers have made their great aim in their respective relations to the patrons of this Institution, and to the inmates under their charge, and yield their willing testimony that with but few exceptions during the past year, the Old Ladies have preserved their true dignity, by conforming to the rules and convenience of those who voluntarily undertake their care and support ; apparently, justly appreciating the sacrifice of time and labor necessary from the Managers, to make them as comfortable and happy as they now are.

The present household is characterised by uniform cheerfulness and respectability in all its relations, and the Managers feel encouraged in their work by knowing that they are now realizing the wishes of its judicious founder, in being able to give a Home to those who have been deprived by misfortune of previous Home comforts.

The building is open and free for the Public to visit and inspect on each day of the week, with the exception of Sunday and Wednesday, and on Sunday, for those who wish, from religious motives, to attend divine worship in the Chapel. Wednesday of each week is set apart for the Inmates to receive their visitors, relations, or friends, (although in cases of necessity from sickness or other causes, any one, by stating the same, can gain admittance at any time.)

This restriction, if one it may be called, is evidently necessary for the good order of the household, as calls upon the Inmates at all hours, and every day, would be alike troublesome to the Matron, and those within her charge.

It seems hardly necessary to state again and again, in these Annual Reports the jurisprudence of this establishment—of its Managers, their subdivision into committees for their several requisite duties—or its officers, their responsibilities, &c., &c. The public by this time must have become conversant with its leading principles and their general results, but to those who are yet strangers to this Charity, we would refer to the contents of this pamphlet, embodying in its Constitution and By-laws all the information that can be gained without visiting personally the Institution. To all such, who have a latent spark of interest within their hearts for this unquestionable Charity, we urge them to fan it into life by a visit to the Home. Converse freely with the old ladies of their past trials and present condition—learn from them the real trials of adversity, wherein poverty itself has but a small place, amidst the destitution of human affections and loss of friendly sympathy. Some are made destitute by the hand of Death—some, by wordly misfortune—more alas, by the falling off of kindred aid and the want of human sympathy, where God has ordained its true fount to be, in the family relations of life.

It is common to say that old age is fitful, querulous and complaining, true in a degree, it is so, but remember old age has its trials, and its heaviest bereavement in the memory of buried or lost affections.

All these cannot be wholly replaced, but the Managers have found their efforts to cheer them into new interests by ministering to their bodily comforts and physical ailings, kindles anew the embers of gratitude, and opens their chilled souls to the warmth of divine love, and their devotions are oftentimes glowing with thanks to the source of all good, for this peaceful resting place on earth. Seldom indeed has it been found that kind words are thrown away, and the happiest results arise from the intercourse of the Visiting Committee in their rooms—their little wants supplied, and grievances (imaginary oftentimes) adjusted, whilst the christian temper of love and forbearance is ever urged upon them, they thus recognise a friend in the Manager, and in many cases repay her by the warmest regard and confidence, for her sisterly sympathy.

Some few there are whose mental powers have weakened with their physical decay, scarce recognise their privileges, or from infirmity of temper, are exacting and complaining, but this class are fast lessening in number, and their places are being filled by those who recognise God's love in this temporal provision for their old age. A strict investigator into the state of feeling at the Home, will find contentment and thankfulness its pervading element.

The present number of Inmates is forty-eight; Boarders two; Dismissed none; Servants six; Entered during the past year six; Deaths during 1860 three.

Mrs. Mary Albertson, born in New London, Conn. entered April 20, 1858, died March 20, 1860, aged 74—a member of the Methodist Church. Her disease was Dropsy surrounding the heart; she was a great sufferer for many months previous to her decease.

Miss Alice Taggert, born in Philadelphia, Penn., entered May 1, 1852, died June 4, 1860, aged 83—a member of the Baptist Church, and was an honor to her religion. Fervent, yet quiet in her worship, never intrusive, and always happy in every domestic relation, her loss was deeply felt by the Managers and all connected with her, as her example was invaluable to other members of the Home a truly christian spirit pervading all her conduct in life. Her disease, or rather her passing away, for she manifested no physical suffering, was the general prostration of nature from old age; sinking from day to day, until her spirit was permitted to leave its earthly tenement, gently and surely, for its future home. She expressed great gratitude to all around her for the care and kindness she had received within the Institution, and thankfulness to the Father of all “for permitting this great Charity to exist” (as she termed it).

Miss Elizabeth Van Tyle Hicks, born in New London, Conn., entered September 9, 1857, died December 23, 1860, aged 63. She was a member of the Dutch Reformed Church, and was earnest in her prayers for peace and good will to all and for all. Warm in her protestations of obedience to her Father's will, and thankful for her prolonged existence, although the most intense sufferer from disease and physical injuries, one could scarce credit that a wish to live could be found within her, yet her love of life was strong and sincere. Rheumatism of the heart terminated her suffering suddenly, the Sabbath before Christmas.

These are the only records of death we have for the year past—few indeed, considering the advanced age of the Inmates, and their many hardships in life, previous to their admission to the Institution. There have been no epidemics, or peculiar forms of disease within its limits during the past twelve months, and the general good health of its Inmates, has been a source of much congratulation to those appointed for their care.

The Visiting Committee's two for each month during the past year, report, that the building has never been kept in a more healthful and pure condition than for the past twelve months, that they have dined, and otherwise partaken of food prepared for the household, twice or three times each week, and have found it to be sufficient in quantity and unusually neat and nutritious, in its preparation for the table orderly and well served. The servants well trained and faithful in the performance of their respective duties; they, therefore, in connection with the other ladies of the Board, tender their thanks to Mrs. Caroline Wright, Matron, for her good management and care in the domestic department of the Institution, and for the good order and neatness evinced in all things placed under her charge.

The Pulpit Committee report, that they have been cordially met by the different pastors and laymen of various congregations in Brooklyn and Williamsburg, to whom they have made application for aid in furnishing the Chapel Services for each succeeding Sabbath, and their requests have been cheerfully responded to; also, would return their most grateful thanks to Mr. Wm. Christmas, of Clairmont Avenue, for his services as chorister, for several years past so constantly and willingly rendered.

The Managers feel under great obligations to those who have given spiritual aid on such occasions, and also for their more particular service in the sick room, over the dying head, or beside the lifeless clay, by their prayers and supplication both for the living and the dead ; truly, their work is of God, and from Him will their reward be also. To these aged ones, the minister, their minister, is the colored glass through which they look into the dim, yet to them, near future, to find the fruition of all their hopes and prayers, joyously greeting his coming with childlike faith and trust. Happy indeed must he be who has the power to unlock their souls, and bring them by true repentance to a brighter rest in Heaven. Happy indeed are the results from clerical visitations to the Home, and the Managers would here most gratefully acknowledge their benefits.

The Application Committee report, that six new members have been admitted to the Institution during the past year. Many applicants have been reluctantly declined admission, from some one requirement not being met, which was essential to their becoming inmates, although their general testimonials were highly commendatory. It is ever painful to say no, in cases where our sympathies are so much enlisted, but in all charitable societies there must be a fixed limit for admission, otherwise the sympathies of our woman's nature would sometimes overbear discretion. The Committee also add with deep regret that they have had to decline any farther investigations at present for the reception of new inmates, as the state of the Treasury forbids any additional drafts upon it. This circumstance, in this dull and drear state of the country is deeply distressing, as now more than ever, does the Institution need support—now, more than ever, do the aged seek a shelter.

The Purchasing Committee report that their efforts at retrenchment during the past year have resulted satisfactorily, and in very many cases their purchases have been made more favorably than in 1859. The donations of provisions and groceries for the store room have not been so large as in former years, therefore the amount expended has been necessarily increased.

They would tender their warm thanks to Mr. Oscar

Hughes, of Myrtle Avenue, for his generosity in furnishing a large quantity of china, free of charge, for the use of the Donation Party, and also for past favors of a similar kind ; acts of kindness in this way are very valuable and highly appreciated. Also, would here express their thanks to Mr. J. B. Stewart, of Fulton Street, for making and putting down carpets purchased for the Home free of charge, and also for offering every possible facility to prevent delay in furnishing them.

The Work Committee report, that in their department they have but little left for future usefulness, and would suggest to any ladies interested in this Charity, the propriety of adding any articles suitable for the aged invalid, to their store room. The wardrobes of the old ladies are generally well supplied and sufficient for all their needs, but there are cases where their comfort requires some assistance, and for such, and the supplies necessary for the house, of sheeting, table linen, &c., the Committee make the above suggestion.

The Treasurer's Report, will show the income and disbursements for the past year, and also show how very small is the amount available, left in the Treasury for the support of the aged women and their necessary surroundings. Previous to the last Donation Visit, the monthly bills were barely covered by the funds in hands, leaving only the hope of there collections from annual subscribers to carry them through the ensuing month ; therefore the receipts of the Donation Visit were instantly called upon for current expenses, which, with the best economy will only last until other measures are resorted to for the support of the Institution.

This Annual Festival was fruitful of pleasant memories, for the sympathy and interest expressed for the continuance of this Charity, and the aid given by friends in furnishing articles for sale, will encourage the Managers to persevere in their efforts to support and continue its existence. The gloomy atmosphere in the financial world was felt in the receipts at the Secretary's desk, but in consideration of this depression, the Society have no reason to complain of the results on that occasion.

The above statement will clearly show the necessity of still farther exertion in some form, to awaken the sympathies of our more wealthy citizens. Almost appalling to the Managers it seems to call upon their patrons and the public again for material aid to sustain their charge through this coming year, but relying upon former encouragement, and the advice of influential friends, they feel forced by necessity to do so.

To the wealthy—God's stewards upon earth, the Managers appeal for sympathy and aid—aid, that will help to shelter the bending head of age from the pitiless storms of adversity; aid, that will clothe the soul as with a garment of gratitude and love; aid, that will keep the waning lamp of life still bright within its socket; aid, that will moisten the dying lips with the dews of grateful thanks; aid, that will carry up to heaven on the wings of each departing spirit, its own record of faithfulness to God's high and holy trust. Such aid is yours to give, such record will be paged above, can you resist its high and holy promise to your "work well done?" Remember, but a short time on the page of eternity may be your earthly limit, and how much yet may be done to secure to you an immortality of blessedness. "Give, and ye shall receive," fell from the lips of our divine Master in words of command, as well as love; leave not to the last, the fruition of your good resolves, but enjoy whilst yet life's pulse throbs full with health, the fruits of your beneficence.

It were most desirable that a permanent fund should be raised for this Institution, whereby these frequent appeals to the public might be avoided, furnishing a sufficient income in connection with the annual subscriptions for its yearly support. The officers could then, by seeing farther ahead, make more judicious and profitable arrangements for the benefit of the Society. This matter has received the serious attention of the Advisory Committee for the past two years, and great hopes have been held that before the close of 1860, it would have been accomplished now, the hope must be deferred not abandoned, to some more propitious season. The cloud that hangs so darkly over our land, need not shut out the sun of love within us, but rather make its light shine forth more brightly. Those that have, have more cause than ever to give, and those that have not, need their aid the more in times of business paralysis. Therefore, to the wealthy, to those whose granaries are filled do we make this appeal, feeling that they reap in heaven the seed sown on earth, and their good angels stand ready to garner it in its fulness, to their account beyond the grave. To those whose life springs of health are welling full of joy we would say, give us your sympathy and labor; the labor, the work of our Saviour was His wealth, which He distributed abundantly, rich indeed has He made you by his wealth of love, by which you can make glad the downward pathway of some aged pensioner. Visit our aged Ones, and give them cheerful counsel, urge their cause upon your more fortunate neighbor, and your aid too will be inestimable in this barren field of life's joys and luxuries.

To our Sisters in this little world of charitable labor, we would urge, still work on, there is much yet to be done ere you fulfil your mission and your trust. Let no discouragement of small avails chill your energies, but feel, that to these your aged sisters, 'though almost forgotten by the world, you are yet enabled by your exertions for them, to raise up friends and means sufficient to smooth their pathway to the grave.

Respectfully,

A. R. ST. JOHN,

Corresponding Secretary.

BROOKLYN, JAN. 24, 1861.

The Managers tender their sincere acknowledgements to Dr. H. Teller, of Dekalb Avenue, for his continued medical services at the Home, freely and gratuitously rendered. May the healer of souls, grant him his reward in time to come.

By order,

A. R. ST. JOHN,

Corresponding Secretary.

Also to Mr. Charles F. Mermier, Myrtle Avenue, for Dental Services and Medicines, supplied free of charge at all seasons when called upon. The Managers and Inmates tender him their grateful thanks.

By order,

A. R. ST. JOHN,

Corresponding Secretary.

FOR THE GOVERNMENT OF THE

Asylum for Respectable, Aged, Indigent Females, BROOKLYN.

FIRST.—The Matron shall have the entire charge of the house, under the direction of the Visiting Committee, keep it in neat order, and enforce the rules of the house; to be present at meals; see that they are properly served; that every thing is on the table before the family sit down; that suitable nourishment is provided for the sick; proper order preserved at table; and grace said before each meal. She must be respectful and kind to the inmates of the family; never let partiality be shown; but maintain the respect due to her station. If improper conduct is observed in any member of the family, she shall, after the first offence, report the same to the Visiting Committee. She shall keep a record of all donations sent to the house, and by whom; she shall see that all unnecessary lights and fires are put out before ten o'clock.

SECOND.—Family worship is to be regularly performed in the Chapel of the Asylum; every inmate will be expected punctually to attend, except in case of sickness. Notice to be given by ringing the bell.

THIRD.—It will be required of those who are able, to make their own beds, and sweep their own rooms every morning, and assist those in the same room who are unable.

FOURTH.—It will be expected of those who are capable, that they will sew, knit, and assist in some domestic duties, rendering such service as they can for the benefit of the Institution, and for the comfort of those more helpless than themselves.

FIFTH.—No individual will be permitted to leave the Institution to procure work, solicit assistance or to dispose of any fancy articles made by themselves, unless by special permission of the Visiting Committee.

SIXTH.—Dinner will be served at one o'clock; Supper before candle-light. All who are able will attend at the general table; if indisposed, a suitable meal will be sent to their rooms.

SEVENTH.—If any inmate wishes to visit her friends, leave of absence must be obtained from the Matron, and information rendered where she intends staying, and the probable length of her visit.

EIGHTH.—No stimulants or spirituous liquors to be used in the Asylum except by order of the Physician; all in such cases to be administered by the Matron.

NINTH.—No profane or improper language allowed in the Asylum.

TENTH.—No visitors shall be admitted on the Sabbath, except by permission of the Visiting Committee; on Wednesday of each week the friends of the inmates may visit the Home, but at all other times a permit from a Manager will be required.

ELEVENTH.—All cases of sickness in the Home shall be attended by the Physician of the Institution, unless he shall see fit to call in other or additional advice.

TWELVTH.—All persons admitted shall be admitted on a probation of six months, after which time the Board of Managers shall act definitely on the case of each one so received, and if not confirmed as permanent inmates, the admission fee, after deducting board at the rate of per week, shall be returned.

THIRTEENTH.—No inmate will be permitted to interfere or find fault with the Matron; but if any think they have cause for complaint, they must apply to the Visiting Committee, who will take such order thereon as they may deem proper.

FOURTEENTH.—It is required that all Visitors be treated with respect and attention, and conducted through any part of the Asylum they may wish to visit, with the approbation of the Matron or Visiting Committee. Particular attention to be paid to the ministers of the gospel, and those whose visits are made for religious purposes. No inmates are permitted to invite their friends to give public religious instruction, without the consent of the Committee.

FIFTEENTH.—To preserve perfect harmony in the family, the strictest attention must be paid to the rules of the Asylum. For the first violation there will be an admonition; for the second a complaint will be preferred to the Board; for the third, the offender may be expelled from the House by a vote of the Board of Managers.

DUTIES OF THE MANAGERS.

The First Directress shall preside at the meetings of the Managers, preserve order, nominate Committees, call special meetings, and in all equal divisions of the Board give the casting vote. She shall furnish every new Manager with a book, containing in print the Constitution, the rules for the regulation of the Board, the duties of the Managers, and the rules for the government of the Asylum. When a Manager resigns her seat at the Board, she is to return this book to the First Directress, who will make it over to her successor.

In the absence of the First Directress, the Second shall preside : and if both be absent, a person shall be chosen from among the members present, to preside at the meeting.

The Recording Secretary shall summon the meetings of the Managers, keep a fair and correct record of all their proceedings, a register of the inmates of the Asylum, and do all other writing not connected with the office of the Treasurer or the business of the Committee.

The Treasurer shall hold the evidences of property belonging to the Society ; receive all moneys, and deposit the same at a bank, in her name, as Treasurer ; make payments agreeably to the order of Managers : keep a fair account of all receipts and expenditures, which shall at all times be open to the inspection of the Managers. She shall furnish a monthly abstract of her receipts and expenditures, and of the balance remaining in her hands, and prepare a statement to be laid before the Society at their annual meeting.

The Managers shall be divided into committees of two, who, in weekly rotation, shall superintend the Asylum, under the name of the "Visiting Committee."

The Visiting Committee shall visit the Asylum not less than twice during their week ; they shall endeavor to be present once at each meal ; shall make themselves acquainted with the situation and wants of the inmates ; generally direct the concerns of the family, and report their observations in the minute book—which book, on the last day of their week, is to be sent to the succeeding committee, for which purpose a list of the committees is to be kept in the book.

The Purchasing Committee shall make all purchases necessary for the family, pay all bills, and present a monthly account of their proceedings to the Board.

The Committee for Receiving Applications.—It shall be the duty of this Committee to receive applications, to visit the applicants, inquire into their character and circumstances, and make their report thereon to the Board, in writing. It shall also be the duty of this committee to keep a register of the names of the applicants, the persons by whom they are recommended, and their place of residence. It will be likewise required that they keep a book in which the terms of agreement entered into between the committee and the friends of the applicant be inserted, with the signatures annexed. No person will be admitted into the Institution without an order from the Committee.

Church Committee.—A committee of twelve members of the Board of Managers shall be appointed to see that the Asylum is duly supplied with the preaching of the Gospel; and have a general superintendence of this important concern. Any minister, properly authorized as a preacher of the Gospel, by an evangelical denomination of Christians, shall be cordially received and none other will be admitted. The whole duty of supplying the Asylum with the preaching of the Gospel to devolve on this committee, which they will be expected carefully and conscientiously to discharge; and the other members of the Board of Managers will be required to communicate with this Committee, and obtain their consent previous to introducing any one into the Asylum as a religious instructor. The Committee shall, as far as practicable, have the Asylum supplied with preaching once or twice on the Sabbath. The Committee shall make such regulations as may appear to them proper and regular, with respect to prayer meetings, or any other religious meetings from time to time. The Committee shall give verbal instructions to the Matron how to act in relation to this subject in the absence of the Committee. The Committee to keep a register of applications, with the decision of the Board in each case.*

Each Manager will be furnished by the Recording Secretary, with a list of subscribers, whose contributions she will be expected annually to collect.

The duties of the Managers appear to be generally comprised in the foregoing rules: in addition to which, it shall be considered the duty of the Visiting Committee at the Asylum, during their stated period of attendance, not only to inquire into the temporal welfare of its inmates, but to visit them in their several rooms, and endeavor to ascertain their spiritual state, giving them such advice and instruction as may be in their power, and the circumstances of the case may render necessary.

B O N D .

The Subscribers having been received as inmates of the Home, do hereby agree to the rules and regulations of the House, as adopted by the Managers. And in consideration of the care and attention of the Managers, and the expenses of the establishment, we do hereby severally make over to the Association all such utensils, beds, bedding, and household stuffs and furniture as we have brought or shall bring to the Home for our own use, to the end that the quiet and comfort of the Home may not be disturbed in the event of our removal or death, but that all things may remain for our successors. And, whereas, we have been reduced in the course of Divine Providence to a state of dependence ; but the same kind Providence may hereafter bless us with the accession of property, so as to enable us to retire from this Home, and possibly to become contributors to it, we and each of us do further hereby appoint the Chairman of the Advisory Committee of said Society, for the time being, our Attorney and Trustee, to receive for us respectively, and to sell or dispose of all estates, real and personal, of every description, to which we shall hereafter or may be now entitled.

And we hereby assign the said estates, and empower the said Chairman, and his successor in office accordingly, to the end that the Association may be reimbursed for the support and supplies that shall have been furnished to us respectively, as far as such estates may extend, and the balance to be accounted for to us or our legal representatives.

Witness our hands and seals, the day and year set opposite to our names respectively.
